Product Information

Age Patinated Artificial Stone

Continuing a tradition begun in the early 19th Century by Austin and Seeley, the Architectural Heritage collection of artificial stone ornament, hand-made here at our Taddington manufactory, imitates the patina of aged stone.

This unique look is achieved by hand finishing and age patinating to our own formula, in a four stage process, which when completed effects the look akin to old weathered garden ornament. Age patinated artificial stone ornament is well suited for water features due to its strength and resilience in extreme temperatures.

Hand Carved Natural Limestone

The Architectural Heritage collection of hand carved natural limestone garden ornament takes its inspiration from the rare 18th and 19th Century antique originals in which we have dealt for the past 40 years. Above are three stages of natural weathering acquired within two years.
