2015 Catalogue Addendum

Fine Garden Ornament, Fountains & Planters

Welcome to our 2015 Fine Garden Ornament Catalogue Addendum. This catalogue, which includes our current price list, has been produced to complement our existing Garden Ornament Catalogue. Inside you will find newly developed products ranging from additional copper planter sizes, new seat and table designs, and just for fun... 'Dolly' the rusty sheep!

Our full range of fine reproduction garden ornament, alongside our antique garden statuary inventory, is permanently displayed here in the grounds and galleries of Taddington Manor and is also available to view on our regularly updated website www.architectural-heritage.co.uk.

Please do not hesitate to contact us to obtain additional copies of this catalogue addendum and our main catalogue as required, telephone +44 (0) 1386 584414 or email alex@architectural-heritage.co.uk.

I very much look forward to being of assistance.

Kind Regards

Alex

Period Garden Statuary

Architectural Heritage always seeks to source the finest examples of 18th, 19th and early 20th century garden statuary, ornament and water features available, with a strong emphasis on aesthetic value, provenance and historical interest.

Fine Reproduction Garden Ornament

Taking inspiration from the antique, in which we have dealt for over 40 years, Architectural Heritage presents fine reproduction garden ornament, fountains and statuary based on period designs, made by craftsmen using traditional techniques.

Modern Sculpture

As a natural progression from dealing in period sculpture, Architectural Heritage is now pleased to present to clients interesting and exciting works of modern and contemporary sculpture from well-known and emerging artists alike.

Period Architectural Elements

With over 40 years experience, we are in a unique position to source, conserve and present fine examples of our architectural heritage, displaying panelled rooms, staircases and period fire surrounds in the 17th century barns at Taddington Manor.

Bespoke Stone Fire Surrounds

Architectural Heritage undertakes commissions to carve bespoke fire surrounds in natural limestone to clients' requirements, utilising traditional stone masonry techniques and craftsmanship to achieve the highest standards of work.
